

Year 2 – Summer – What could we put in our best British banquet? <ul style="list-style-type: none"> key human features, including: town, factory use simple fieldwork and observational skills to study the geography of their school and its grounds and the key human and physical features of its surrounding environment 		Previous Learning <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Towns and cities have come up throughout Year 1 and 2 Created simple field sketches of their surrounding area in ‘Where am I in the world?’ - including a title and date progress to adding labels of the key features
Objective and Success Criteria	Coverage	Key Questions	Children should be able to	Resources
To consider how humans impact the environment (Context what do factories produce?) (Context looking at farms and allotments)	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Look at how the factory of Huntley and Palmers used the environment e.g. railways and canals Think about what waste factories produce and how this can impact the environment Look at how farms produce food and how they try to lessen their impact by keeping hedges and natural boundaries Think about the importance of allotments and small scale growing Consider the impact of foods grown in heated greenhouses 	Where can you grown apples? How are factories useful? What problems might factories cause?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Explain some environmental impacts of factories and farming
To create a field sketch	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Re-cap that a field sketch is not just a drawing Think about what features you are trying to focus on Remember it needs a title and a date Re-cap which details are important and which details aren’t Look at labelling the key features you are focused on 	Will I need to draw a bird? Will I need a title? Which features are we focused on?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> Create a field sketch Say what is important to include in a field sketch
Assessment Questions What might you include in a field sketch of? What food could you grow in the U.K?				