Dear Parents and Carers,

I hope this week has gone as smoothly as possible and that homeschooling has been both manageable and enjoyable.

Just to keep you updated: Staff Team A have completed their first week and Staff Team B take over from Monday. We had an online staff meeting this morning to make sure that all the relevant information was transferred. Even though it is a different team on site, all forms of communication will continue to be monitored, so please get in touch if anything is required.

I have uploaded Friday's Celebration Assembly. At the beginning I have recorded the process of how to access the school website and find the work packs and I have also shared with you some of the things from Twitter that have been worked on this week. Take a look at the assembly on YouTube and see if your children can spot the photographs that they have sent in via Twitter this week!

Enjoy some family time over the weekend and I will be in touch next week.

Best wishes,

Matt Hickey
