

Highwood Moving Up Morning Social Story 2

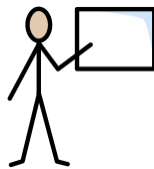

On Wednesday, I will have a Moving Up Morning at school. This is a special morning to help me get ready for my new class.

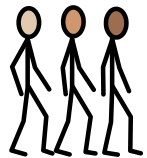

When I arrive at school, I will go to my current classroom as usual.

My teacher will take the register, just like every other day.

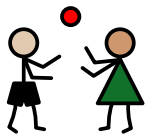

After registration, everyone in my year group will meet together. My current teacher will tell me who my teacher will be next year.

My teacher will ask us to stand in our new class groups. I will line up with the children who will be in my new class. The adults who know me will walk with my new class to our new classroom. They will help us find where we need to go.

In my new classroom, I will meet my new teacher and spend time getting to know my new classroom. I might do some fun activities with my new class.

When it is break time, I will play in the playground that I will use next year. This helps me become familiar with where I will play.

When break is finished, my new teacher will collect my class from the playground and take us back to our new classroom.

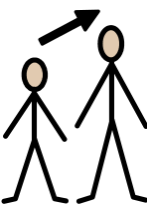

I will return to my current class for lunchtime. The adults will help everyone know where to go.

It is okay if I feel excited, worried or unsure. Lots of children feel this way when they are getting ready for a new class.

The adults in school know how to help me. They will be there to answer my questions and make sure I feel safe.

Moving Up Morning is a chance to meet my new teacher, see my new classroom and get ready for another exciting year at school.
